Represented At Cottonseed
Crushers' Convention

Welcome From Governor
Mayor and Business Men

President Ransom's Review of Industrial Conditions

POINTS WAY TO PROSPERITY

Fully 800 representatives of the cottonseed industries of the United States were present at the annual and biennial twelfth annual convention of the Interstate Cottonseed Crushers' Association, which opened at the Hotel Commodore, the delegates have brought their wives and they intend to have a good time during the next few business days. The lobby of The Seiblack was an animated scene all yesterday, all the delegates and their wives taking advantage of the opportunity of inspecting the manufacturing plants of Louisiana. The convention will last through to-morrow.

The only session held yesterday was a social one, with the moderators principally of speeches of welcome and responses. This feature was heartily enjoyed by all the delegates. It was considered it a treat to have Governor Wilson with them. The president delivered a message and the secretary and treasurer made reports. The luncheon was served at The Seiblack and the afternoon was spent by the delegates. An informal reception for the visiting ladies was held in the parlors of the hotel, and a social gathering and a buffet luncheon in the Rathskeller at 1 o'clock. In the afternoon the delegates will go to the fair grounds to ride through the parks and last night

A short business session will be held this morning and in the afternoon.

The delegates will take in the scenes at Churchill Downs. The cars will leave The Seelbach at 1:45 *for the race track. To-night a smoker will be given on the roof garden of The Seelbach.

Gov. Willson Gives Welcome.

The convention was called to order at 10 o'clock yesterday at The Seelbach by J. J. Caffrey, chairman of the committee on arrangements. About 300 delegates were present when the convention was ready for business. The

Gov. Augustus E. Wilson was introduced and delivered a welcome address on behalf of the State of Kentucky. He said:

"For the people of Kentucky I greet you cordially and give you a warm welcome to this gathering. I am glad to see people and people who do things. Such meetings as these cannot fail to do good. There was a time when business men were not so ready to appreciate the benefits from such gatherings, but now we know that the people are more ready to disposition to reach out to the kindly spirit of others as much as the actual money returned gained by exchange of ideas."

Reference to the recent conference of Governors in Washington, which he alluded to as the meeting of the party of selfishness, was made. The speaker said of fellowship was out constantly and where only the interest of the entire

Gov. Willson made a feeling reference to the recent conference of Governors in Washington, which he alluded to as the "United States party of the United States where the right hand of fellowship was out constantly and where only the interest of the entire Union was in the mind of the United States." Gov. Willson said that Judge Matt O'Doherty, who was to have welcomed the delegates in behalf of the people of Louisville, had asked him to come and make a speech for him, as he was in the midst of an important trial. The Governor said that he was in the midst of a trial at the time and that he could make but little difference whether he was in Frankfort or Louisville.

President Ransom's Response.

President L. A. Ransom made the response to Gov. Willson's welcome on behalf of the visitors. He said that the association had met in many States but never had so many members receive such a warm welcome as in Louisville. He said that from the time the Governor had issued his proclamation that the association was welcome in Kentucky all were doubly glad that they had come. He said if Kentucky truly have a Republican Governor and cannot get on with the Democrats, he wanted to nominate Gov. Willson.

Mayor James F. Grinstead was introduced and welcomed the visitors to Louisville. He said that he was not an orator, as the Governor is, but I want to bid you a sincere and hearty welcome to Louisville. We believe we have the greatest city in the country.

and we hope the committee has so arranged that you will not have to work all the time, and we want you to get out and see our advantages. We are geographically situated in the center of the world and our doors swing open in all directions. We hope that many of you will fall in love with our Louisville and remain among us."

Growth of the Industry.

H. K. Parrish, vice president of the association, in his response to Mayor Grinstead's welcome, told of the growth of the cottonseed industry and interest that Louisville people and capital had taken in its growth. F. W. McKee filled the vacancy caused by the absence of Judge O'Doherty, and spoke in behalf of the Louisville refiners. He amused his listeners by saying that he was the first disappointment on the programme. His speech was joyously received as he turned technique into wit.

C. Fitzsimmons, president of the South Carolina Cottonseed Crushers' Association, said that when he was asked to

"Well, begob! me name is Fitzsimons, an' if O'Doherty 'tinks he can 'crow a bluff into me I'll show 'im! And then he said he believed that Judge O'Doherty had failed to appear."

because he believed he was to meet Bob Fitzsimmons.

President's Annual Address.

In his address Mr. Ransom called attention to the work accomplished by the association and to the general conditions

BROODED OVER SCANDAL

JOHN MCGAUGHEY SHOTS HIMSELF IN HEAD.

Former Member of Board of County Commissioners of Indianapolis a Suicide.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 19.—John E. McGaughey, aged fifty-five, former member of the Board of County Commissioners, to-day shot and killed himself at his home in Irvington because of the connection of his name with the scandal that has developed in the office of the commissioners.

At 7 o'clock this morning his son, Ned McGaughey, told the physician that his father had been threatening to kill himself for the last month, because of despondency growing out of the allegations in connection with the commissioners' court scandal.

McGaughey's term as commissioner expired January 1, 1907. The only instance in which his name had been connected with the growing scandal in the office of the commissioners.

McGaughey denied receiving such a letter, and knowing anything about it. He said that he had received a letter from Spafford, denying having received the money to give McGaughey.

In this the Atlas Engine Works is charged with paying a bribe of $2,800 to the commissioners. Emmett Higgins, former ballplayer, in his confession, told that he gave Thomas Spafford, commissioner, $2,800 to be given to McGaughey.

NEEDED A SHAVE

Burglar Contents Himself With Case of Razors.

CHILD SCALDED BY POT OF BOILING COFFEE.

DRIVER SERIOUSLY INJURED WHEN HORSE RUNS AWAY.

TEACHER TO TRAVEL ABROAD.

Lexington, Ky., May 19.—(Special.)—A burglar, who, presumably could not wait until the barbershops opened to get shaved, broke into John Truister's on the corner of Main and Walnut streets last night, and stole a case of razors valued at $20.

Although there were thousands of dollars' worth of other goods in the store, it was in the case of razors that the burglar was most interested. The only thing that saved the store from being robbed several times before was the fact that the burglar had entered by opening a window on the Walnut-street side of the store.

The burglar, who had probably carefully closed it after entering so as to avoid the suspicion of passers-by, would not have been able to get away had it not been for the fact that the burglar was so busy with his razors that he did not notice the police who were waiting for him.

ENGLISH-BORN LOUISVILLIAN HEARS FROM HIS SISTER AFTER SEPARATION OF MANY YEARS

Twenty-eight years after seeing his mother and sister in England, and fifteen years after communicating with them, George W. Jeffery, a machinist of the American Seeding Machine Company, yesterday received the long-looked-for letter from his sister, who had been separated from him for fifteen years.

Jeffery left his home in London twenty-eight years ago to seek his fortune in America. He left his mother, Mrs. Sarah Jeffery, and one sister in the old home, but communicated with them regularly. Gradually, however, in the struggle to rise in the new land, he formed other relations and settled down as a workingman in America, with letters to his old home at ever lengthening intervals. The letters from home also came less frequently. He knew that both his mother and his sister were of independent means and well-cared for at their home. Fifteen years ago the letters between them ceased completely, and since then both sides have been waiting for their place of residence frequently.

Yesterday morning the local police department received a letter from a firm of lawyers in England asking for information concerning the possible whereabouts of George W. Jeffery, formerly of this city. The letter stated that the search was being made at the request of Jeffery's sister, following the recent death of his mother. Within four hours after the receipt of the letter, Mr. Jeffery, of the Third district, succeeded in tracing Jeffery to his present place at the factory of the American Seeding Machine Company, at Eighth and Green streets, and informing him of the search that was being made for him.

Jeffery, who had long ago lost trace of his mother's and his sister's whereabouts, even as they had of his, was greatly rejoiced to receive the letter, and, in fact, he expressed his gratitude to the police for their prompt and efficient aid in bringing together the long-separated family.

Third Race—Plantland, Dr. McCler, Boerian.
Fourth Race—McAllister, Gerst entry, Web entry.
Fifth Race—Mortby, The Minks, Gerst entry.
Sixth Race—Synchroized, The Thorn, Hittahyphen.
Two Best Bets—French Cook, Mortby.

Another good crowd attended the races at Churchill Downs yesterday afternoon, in spite of the fact that the weather threatened rain at any moment. It did sprinkle for a short time, but there was little income because the shower was very mild. The track was muddy, but it was hard a few inches under the soft covering, and good time was made.

The players of form had a very bad day yesterday. Warner Griswell, the only popular favorite to earn brackets, he beat Bill Herron and King's Son in the closing event, while Margaret Randolph did not finish inside the money. The latter was well played because Joe Hawkins has a habit of winning the last race almost every day, but Margaret Randolph, yesterday, was not equal to the task of the day.

Bank Outlets Takes Opener.

Although seven starters faced the barrier in the first race, the pari-mutuel machine reported a total of only 231 tickets. The field is composed of 3-year-olds and 4-year-olds, and the race was a good one for the players of form. The race was won by French Cook, who was a long shot, but he was a good one for the players of form. The race was won by French Cook, who was a long shot, but he was a good one for the players of form.

Another Upset For Talent.

Another big field went to the post in the second event, but the race was a good one for the players of form. The race was won by Boerian, who was a long shot, but he was a good one for the players of form. The race was won by Boerian, who was a long shot, but he was a good one for the players of form.

Terah Beats Keep Moving.

An allowance race, at one mile, third on the card, was the feature number, and furnished a close and exciting finish that resulted in a victory for E. A. Brennan's Terah. St. Barto had declined the issue, but after forcing a fast pace to the half mile, the winner was a long shot, but he was a good one for the players of form.

ground gradually, then cut the corner at the stable turn and duplicated the trick of winning for home, never losing a foot of ground, which won the race. He fairly tried the driver, and then moved, and it looked as if he was racing to take care of himself. He held back advantage a split second and had the race the Brennan colt until Keep Moving, who was a long shot, but he was a good one for the players of form. The race was won by Keep Moving, who was a long shot, but he was a good one for the players of form.

Queen's Message arrived too late, as Picken and Elysium had taken the fort, while Ocala was knocking at the door.

Dr. Lee Huffman was given out as a hot member on his work-outs, which have been very fast. The M. D. looked all over a winner during the race, but he failed in the stretch run as if he had never been in the race. He was a long shot, but he was a good one for the players of form.

There was rejoicing in the Schreiner camp when the news of Jack Atkin's victory was received. The Missouri-bred horse is creating a great deal of interest in the quarters at the track. He is a long shot, but he was a good one for the players of form.

Ten horses declined the issue in the six events, which reduced the fields considerably, especially in the last race.

The fifth event to-day will be a horse race from start to finish. At least five horses have about an equal chance to land the long end of the purse, and the man who can figure the winner will do so. The race is a long shot, but he was a good one for the players of form.

The Louisville Steeplechase over the full course, which was a long shot, but he was a good one for the players of form. The race was won by Keep Moving, who was a long shot, but he was a good one for the players of form.

Jack Atkin Wins Nine Race.

Noted Sprinter, Carrying Heavy Impost, Runs Three-Quarters of a Mile in 1:03.3-5.

PENARRIS IS DESTROYED.

ELMONT PARK, N. Y., May 19.—A new world record was made at Belmont Park to-day, when Precceptor, a 2-year-old, carrying 112 pounds, won the second race at four and a half furlongs straight away. He stepped the distance in 51 flat, which is 3-5 of a second faster than the previous record, with 107 pounds up, at Morris Park, May 12, 1934. There was a strong wind blowing down the stretch, and the youngsters had it within them all the way.

Jack Atkin, carrying the heavy impost of 137 pounds, won the Crotona Handicap, six furlongs straight away, in the remarkably fast time of 1:03.3-5, which is 3-5 of a second slower than the world's record.
